To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to apply for the Junior Software Developer for Boeing job listing posted on Indeed.com. I believe my 5 years of experience with Java and my 8 years of experience with web technologies make me eligible for the role.

I am mostly self-taught, focusing on systems development with the Rust language. This experience translates to higher level languages (like Java) by making me more conscience about safety and correctness, qualities that are critical to any system exposed to user interaction. The culmination of my programming experience has so far resulted in me creating tools and libraries for other developers, as well as some private projects.

My work experience has been with Office Depot, which has been making me a better communicator by having me interact with a variety of customers, who have diverse problems and levels of knowledge about their problems. It has been a great opportunity for me to develop my soft skills, which can be easy to neglect as an avid programmer.

My resume covers my variety of skills and many certifications, many of which should be of interest to you. I hope to hear back from you soon! You can contact me via phone (727-492-6820) and email (jonahhenriksson@gmail.com).

Sincerely,

Jonah Henriksson
